C C C G
/I was a young /college guy /finding my way a/round.

F F G C
/Living in the /Little Apple, a /great Kansas /town.

/After a few /classes my /clothes kind of /reeked.
I /headed to the /laundromat /just down the /street.

This /pretty gal was /hiding her /undies from /me.
I /broke the ice by /saying /"Howdy! I'm /me."

She /thought then and /there that /I weren't for /her.
/Might've been /something 'bout my /poor gram/mar.

But /I /decided /to change her /mind.
/That was 40 plus /years ago and /today she's still /mine. G C. . .

[CHORUS]

F F C C
I /FOUND MY LOVE AT THE /LAUNDROMAT. She's /everything to /me.
G F G C
/We moved south to /Georgia, and our /twosome became /three. G F G C. . .

I /finished up my /laundry and I /headed to the /car.
My /next stop was /groceries and the /store wasn't /far.

As /fate would have it this /gal I thought so /pretty and so /neat, was /right there in the /frozen foods /looking for something to /eat.

I /suggested /Mexican /right down the /street,
"Let's /meet there to eat, and /it'll be my /treat."

/Sure enough, that /spicy food /made my head /itch.
But /after that meal, /to my glee, it ap/peared we were /hitched. G C. . .

/We moved south to /Georgia, and our /twosome became /three. G F G C. . .

We /didn't have much /money, but we /got along just /fine.
We /married in August /nineteen eighty and /graduated on /time.

/Georgia is /not where we /planned to put down /roots.
But it /seems it /worked out and those /roots have born some /fruit.

You /might be /wondering how our /twosome became /three.
Well, /that'll be a/nother song a/bout my gal and /me.

I /will tell you /this a/bout our number /"Three",
/just like his /Mom, he's /smart with a Ph./D. G C. . .

[OUTRO]

Am. . . Am. . .
/If on that day we hadn't had /laundry to do.
Em. . . Em. . .
/We wouldn't have "Three" and /I wouldn't have you.
F G . . . C---->G. . .
But the /stars aligned just /right, because I found /you. /
C---->G. . .
I found /you. /
C---->G. . .
And I love /you. /
